Who do we design for?

We, PNAK, being a leading Uniform Manufacturer in India, supply uniforms for a variety of industries, including security, hospitality, and health care, as well as corporate, school, and hospital uniforms such as lab coats and medical tunics.

We work in the uniforms sector, we genuinely understand our clients' demands and strive to meet them as efficiently as possible. We are the best uniform makers in India because of our specialization and competence.

We Know the Art of Fine Tailoring & Aesthetics

We create uniforms that are both high-quality and cost-effective. We produce and make hospital uniforms, school uniforms, hospitality uniforms, and corporate uniforms that are specifically designed and appealing.

Our hospital uniforms include lab coats, which are loose-fitting coats with deep pockets that are typically worn in a laboratory or medical facility to prevent spillage. Long sleeves are standard on lab coats. They're composed of absorbent materials like cotton to protect the person wearing them from chemical or other contact illnesses.

We make medical tunics which are a type of coat or protective covering with enveloping layers that are worn over the body. One of the coats of a blood artery or other tubular structure is one of these tunics.
