About

Dr. Marc Boutet, N.D. graduated from the Canadian College of Naturopathic Medicine in 2000 and is the Co-founder of the Salmon Arm Naturopathic Clinic along with his wife Dr. Samantha Boutet, N.D.

Dr. Marc Boutet, N.D.'s key focus is to determine and cure the root causes of illness. This challenge has led him to the discovery of advanced methods of diagnosis such as Autonomic Response Testing which is a core of his success. This scientifically proven method of applied kinesiology is taught by Dietrich Klinghardt Ph.D. According to Dr. Klinghardt, the causes of illness fall into the categories of psychological trauma, structural injury, toxicity, infections, neurological interference, nutrient deficiencies, and transgenerational family dynamics issues. Any illness may have 1 or up to all 7 factors as the cause. He believes that it is not always possible to determine all of these underlying factors using the standard Naturopathic Medicine diagnostic methods of a thorough case taking, physical exam and standard medical tests. Therefore in addition to these standard methods, he frequently applies ART to assist in the diagnosis, to select ideal medicines and monitor progress on the way to healing.
